

2007 National Engineers Week Banquet

Join friends and colleagues from local engineering societies for this year's National Engineers Week Banquet. Mingle with your engineering peers during the no-host social. Enjoy a delicious dinner of beef, chicken, shrimp, or vegetarian pasta. The program will consist of the presentation of the Outstanding Engineer Award and the keynote speaker, Dr. Richard T Jacobsen. Dr. Jacobsen became dean of the Idaho State University College of Engineering July 1, 2006. Previously he served as Chief Scientist at the Idaho National Laboratory and dean of the University of Idaho College of Engineering.
